German Riot Marks Third Year of Wall

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP) — West Berliners observed an hour of silence Thursday on the third anniversary of the hated Communist wall. Then silence turned to violence as rioters surged to the barricade and attacked a Soviet army car.

"The wall must go," shouted the demonstrators.

Others sent a truck trailer smashing through barriers put up to keep West Berliners away from the wall between East and West Berlin.

West Berlin police, swinging clubs, dispersed the rock throwing demonstrators. One leather jacketed youth was knocked to the ground, where he lay bleeding and unconscious.

The Soviet army car, containing at least one Soviet officer and a driver, was traveling back to East Berlin. It was attacked near the wall's Checkpoint Charlie, a crossing point for foreigners.

A mob of about 500 West Berliners surrounded the car and battered it with their fists and feet. It was heavily dented and a license plate was ripped off.

The Soviets stayed inside the car, which roared off into East Berlin after West Berlin police.

$1½ Million-Dollar Mail Robbery Unsolved But Pursuit Never Quits

By HENRY SUPPLE

BOSTON (AP) — Two years ago today a man in a policeman's uniform raised his hand to halt a small mail truck in historic Plymouth. When the truck stopped it was robbed of $1,551,277 — the biggest cash haul in United States history.

From that day to this, a band of postal inspectors, 60 on the average, has worked for a solution. The robbers, believed to number six, have not been apprehended. And the money has not been found.

William F. White, chief postal inspector for New England, has been in charge of the case from the outset. A mild, affable and dedicated man of 55, he still is optimistic the crime will be solved.

Only witnesses to the holdup were the driver of the mail truck, Philip Schena, and the guard who rode at his side, Patrick Barrett.

Their truck was carrying 15 sealed bags of cash from Federal Reserve Bank in Boston when it was halted along Route 3 in Plymouth.

Barrett has recounted many times for investigators what happened at dusk on Aug. 14, 1962. His story goes like this:

"We were driving along at a steady pace when a car passed us at about 80 miles an hour. Then a police officer — we thought he was — stepped out on the road and flagged us down." Barrett didn't know the uniformed man was one of the bandits.

After the mail truck had passed Clark Road, which turns off Route 3 into Plymouth, the pseudo policeman placed a detour sign at the junction. The sign diverted traffic from Route 3 down Clark Road and left the gunmen undisturbed as they slid from shrubbery and pointed shotguns at the men on the truck.

Barrett said: "We noticed couple of cars beside the road and thought there might have been an accident. As soon as we stopped four guys jumped us. They all wore white gloves."

"They leaped into the truck, shoved us in the back of it and said 'Keep quiet; don't say anything.' Then we were tied up."

The robbers drove the mail truck for about 25 miles to the north. Along the way they tossed out the money bags to confederates and then abandoned the truck.

Barrett and his postal inspectors were appointed chief of the New England district less than a year before the robbery.

In reiterating his belief the gang will be caught some day, White pointed out that the postal service has a record of 99 per cent convictions.

And he added: "We still are determined to bring this case to a successful conclusion."

Government Pay Hike Is Enacted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed the federal pay-raise bill today and said it will enable the government to attract and keep employees of outstanding ability.

He said he already has signed 25 pieces of major legislation, and the pay-raise bill ranks near the top of the list in importance.

Johnson signed the bill in a ceremony in the White House flower garden attended by members of Congress whose committees handled the legislation, government officials, and labor leaders who supported it.

The measure gives a pay raise to members of Congress, judges, government officials and about 1.7 million federal workers. The boost ranges from $100 a year for the lowest-ranking Civil Service or postal employee up to $10,000 a year for high officials.

It is estimated to add $550 million to the yearly federal payroll which now runs about $15.5 billion.

Johnson lauded the bipartisan display by Congress in passing the bill, as well as in enacting other legislation, saying the legislators put the country and the people first.

Johnson said the continuing goal of the government is to make federal salaries reasonable comparable to those of private industry.

For most of those covered the raises will show up on the next pay check — retroactive to July 1. Members of Congress will have to wait until next Jan. 1 to get their $7,500-a-year increases.

The act provides raises ranging from 2.7 per cent to 30 per cent, with the bigger boosts

Cool Wave Spreading Over East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Autumnal weather continued across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today, marking the longest and chilliest cool spell of the summer in many sections.

As temperatures again skidded to record low marks for August in many cities, there appeared a chance of some warm air moving into the Midwest region which has had nearly a week of chilly weather. However, unseasonably low temperatures were expected to continue in most areas from the eastern Great Lakes into New England.

The mercury dropped into the frosty lower 30s over the northern Great Lakes region, and record low readings for the date were scattered eastward into Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Hibbing, Minn., registered an early morning low of 32 degrees, and it was 34 at Park Falls, Wis., and 37 at Madison, the state capital.

Chicago got its coolest August 14 on record when the temperature fell to 42 on the city's Northwest Side before dawn. Other record lows for the date included 45 at Pittsburgh, 45 at Columbus, Ohio, 46 at Cleveland, and 54 in New York City.

Record low temperatures for August 13 were reported Thursday in more than 30 cities. The lowest reading was 32 in Brookings, S.D.

However, the Northern Plains were up to 10 degrees warmer than early Thursday.

Showers broke out during the night in Missouri and Kansas and headed eastward into parts of Southern Illinois and Indiana. More showers fell in the southern Rockies but dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country.

U. S. Ozark Forest to Be Enlarged

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal government is considering expanding the Ozark National Forest purchase boundary to allow the Forest Service to buy private land ill-suited for other purposes.

There's nothing definite on the proposal, and the government would not buy the land unless the individuals concerned wanted to sell it and thought it could be better managed by the government.

But nevertheless the plan has brought up the old argument about whether the government owns too much of the United States.

Agriculture Department statistics show the government owns 33.9 per cent of all land in the U.S. Fifty-eight per cent is under private ownership, 6 per cent under state, county and municipal ownership and 2 per cent is reserved for Indians.

The 33.9 per cent figure is somewhat misleading. It is pumped up by the fact that large segments of mountainous western states belong to the federal government simply because no one ever claimed them. Eighty-five per cent of Nevada is owned by Uncle Sam, 44 per cent of Arizona, 48 per cent of Wyoming and 66 per cent of Utah.

But the government owns only 8.6 per cent of Arkansas land according to the 1960 census. No check has been made since then.

Of the 2,885,700 acres owned by the government in Arkansas, 2,333,000 are in the Ouachita and Ozark national forests.

There is no indication that government ownership of land is increasing significantly. From 1959 to 1963 the amount of land owned by Uncle Sam increased only from 33.8 per cent to 33.9 per cent of the total U.S. land.

Harold A. Howell of Little Rock, extension forester for the Agricultural Extension Service, said there has been little purchase of Arkansas land since the large government purchases in the 1920s and 1930s.

Very little money is available for purchases of land for national forests, he said.

But, Howell said, there is some concern over the possibility of the Ozark National Forest widening its purchase boundary — the area outside the forest within which the Forest Service can buy land.

The Forest Service does not often exercise its right of eminent domain. If it wants a piece of land, it makes an offer, and if the owner does not accept the offer, the negotiation is dropped.

The two sides of the question in the government land-buying argument are these:

Proponents say the government can better use for all the people land adjacent to national forests which is unusable for agriculture and on which opportunities of individuals to make

Bayou Meto Pollution Suit Filed

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A commercial fisherman is filing a $5,000 damage suit against Hercules Powder Co. of Jacksonville, claiming alleged pollution of Bayou Meto caused him to lose that amount.

Attorneys for Kelsey Carson of Humphrey said they mailed the suit to Pulaski Chancery Court Thursday. Carson claims the losses in fishing covered two years.

Roy Prewitt of Lonoke, a member of the Advisory Council of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, said the suit could open the way for landowners along the stream to seek similar damages by joining in the suit.

Prewitt said their suits could seek damages for loss of revenue through inability to irrigate crops, fill fish ponds and sell fishing rights on the stream because of the alleged pollution.

Hercules was ordered not to dump untreated chlorophenol, a chemical used in making herbicides, in Bayou Meto in a cease and desist order the state Board of Pollution Control had issued about a year ago.

Outraged Atlanta Cafe Proprietor Swears He Will Take Case to High Court

By TOM CHASE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Restaurant owner Lester Maddox pledged to continue his court fight against the Civil Rights Act after he closed the doors of his segregated eating place rather than admit Negroes.

"I'd be a fool if I didn't take it to the U.S. Supreme Court," he told about 80 spectators and newsmen gathered outside the Pickrick Thursday. Some employees were cleaning up after lunch inside.

With tears streaming down his cheeks, Maddox said he was confident that "with the help of almighty God and free people everywhere, the court will say to Congress you have violated the Constitution."

"They have killed my business and helped kill the American free enterprise system," he sobbed.

The scene took place shortly after two Atlanta Negro students, Calvin Jones and Gary Robinson, sought service. Maddox met them at the door of the Pickrick.

He called them Communists, then shouted, "You've stolen my business. Get out of my door. You've just put 66 people out of work."

Of the 66 employees at the $500,000 restaurant, 44 are Negroes, he said. All will be taken care of as long as "there is a dime in the checkbook," he declared.

A three-judge federal court issued a ruling July 2 directing Maddox to comply with the public accommodations section of the civil rights law. The court set Tuesday, Aug. 11, as the date for compliance.

Maddox posted a sign on the front door of his restaurant Thursday in which he said in part that, "the first Communist-inspired racial agitators to enter this entrance and demand service — will put us out of business."

He didn't explain what he meant. But after the two Negroes appeared — and then were escorted away by police, but not arrested — he slammed the door shut and told the crowd: "My president, my Congress and the Communists have closed my business and ended a childhood dream."

"I don't know what I am going to do. They gave me a citation for contempt of court. I might get a rest in the penitentiary."

This seemed unlikely. Civil contempt proceedings, unlike criminal contempt, are normally aimed only at gaining compliance with a court order.

But the crowd cheered. Maddox closed the Bible he'd been reading from during portions of the talk and the people drifted off.

Injured were Mr. Bagwell and his wife, Milrose, 27, and daughter, Cindy, 3. They were taken to a local hospital.

Mr. Bagwell was formerly of Hope and was a local radio announcer.

State Sgt. Guy Downing investigated.

Canadians Fight Over New Flag

OTTAWA (AP) — The dispute about a new Canadian flag will be the subject of a special political conference next week.

Informed sources say Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has invited leaders of all Canadian political parties to a meeting Tuesday. It will be the second time such a meeting has been held.

The government wants a new flag sporting three red maple leaves. A counter proposal calls for only one leaf.

New Jersey Rioting Is in Third Day

By BARRY KRAMER

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Gasoline bombs, bottles and bricks crashed in the streets of Paterson's Negro district for the third successive night, but city officials called the vandals' disorder less serious.

In Elizabeth, police swinging nightsticks swept a street clear of hundreds of Negro and white youths at midnight after a police car was struck with a bottle. There too, on the third night of violence, authorities said tension appeared to be subsiding.

The pattern — three nights of violence in a row — matched that of recent racial rioting in Harlem, Brooklyn and Rochester, N.Y., and Jersey City.

Paterson police reported that between 50 and 60 incidents occurred Thursday night in and near the city's predominantly Negro Fourth Ward. They arrested 23 Negroes, one white man and a dozen juveniles. The unidentified white man allegedly was arrested with a bottle in his hand.

Warning on Restricted Licenses

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Al Graves in a statement released today issued a warning to all parents and adults who knowingly permit their children or other minors to operate motor vehicles without proper licenses.

Mr. Graves reports that both the local sheriff's department and the police department are concerned about the number of teenagers who possess restricted licenses only and are operating vehicles without adult sponsors being present.

He says that if teenagers with only restricted licenses are allowed to operate cars without having an adult present in the vehicle, not only are the operators of the car guilty of the crime, but the parents giving permission are likewise guilty.

All enforcement officers in the county have agreed to be extremely vigilant for violations of this type.

Public Fund Covers Band Uniforms

The business and professional people, manufacturers and individuals of Hope have shown their appreciation to the Hope High School Band.

They opened their hearts and pocket books and made such generous contributions to the uniform fund that the Band Parents Club can now pay off the new uniforms. This has been accomplished in a six week campaign to raise the necessary funds. A total of $5,500 is to be spent on the new uniforms. This provides 55 uniforms, plus majorette and drum major outfits. The Band Parents Club made a down payment of $1,500. With the contributions listed below a total of $4,012 has been donated, raising the grand total to $5,512.

It must be pointed out that the drive will be completed this week, but it is entirely possible that more funds will be needed to purchase more uniforms. There is a growing interest in the band among pupils, and it is hoped that more than 55 uniforms will be needed. If this should be the case, only those individuals or businesses who have not contributed will be contacted. Firms who have made pledges are reminded to mail their contributions at their specified time.

The new uniforms are here and will be worn at the opening football game at Texarkana.

Great Tree Whips Fire Menace

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP)

— An ancient Redwood tree named Moses has won its eighth-day battle for life against a persistent fire which smoldered deep within its trunk.

Harry Harp, a state division of forestry dispatcher, announced Thursday that the fire was out and that Moses — a seedling before the birth of Christ — would probably live another 2,000 years.

The fire was started by lightning which struck the tree Aug. 4 and 6. It burned the trunk 20 feet from the top on the 250-foot giant and fire fighters used helicopters to drop water and chemicals on the blaze.

Italian Red Party Head Is Stricken

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist

sources said today Italian Communist party leader Palmiro Togliatti suffered a stroke in Yalta Thursday. His condition was described as grave.

Soviet specialists were reported to have been called to the Communist leader's bedside. Togliatti, 71, arrived in Moscow Monday and left immediately for Yalta, a Black Sea resort.

L'Unita, official organ of the Italian Communist party, said Togliatti, 71, had been stricken with an unspecified illness.

Togliatti has been in the Soviet Union for the past five days. Maurice Thorez, veteran leader of the French Communist party, died last month aboard a Soviet cruise ship in the Black Sea.

Here's Strange Story of Five Men's Rescue From Tidal Wave in the Gulf

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — The five men never really gave up hope.

But they were used to the ways of the sea and the strange things that happened, even the unexpected wave that proved too much for the sturdy 65-foot, steel oil-exploration tug Michael of Morgan City, La.

That's why John Meyer, 25, of New Orleans, acted as he did during the 46 anxious hours on the life raft, drifting up and down the Atlantic rollers, feeling the hot sun burning and the throat drying.

"If they find that life raft, they'll find my last will and testament scratched on the side," said Meyer, sipping fluid and relaxing in his bed at Brunswick Hospital Thursday night.

Norman Vincent Peale's Story at Saenger Sunday

"One Man's Way," starring
Don Murray as Norman Vincent Peale, is the candid story of a man who deeply feels that the ministry need not be dull. Opening Sunday at the Saenger Theater, through United Artists release, the Frank Ross Production co-stars William Windom, Carol Ohmart and introduces Diana Hyland. Academy Award winner Denis Sanders directed.
Peale's writings via syndicated news features, major magazines and, to date, 13 books (including "The Power of Positive Thinking") have profoundly affected millions of lives and at the same time earned him charges of heresy, blasphemy and commercialization of religion.
The one-time police reporter has never pulled his punches, and neither does this exciting film spanning forty years of Dr.
Peale's highly controversial life.
Frank Ross' determination to film "One Man's Way" as his first major undertaking since bringing "The Robe" to the screen, was sparked when he read, in The Readers Digest, excerpts from Arthur Gordon's best-selling book, "Minister To Millions." The film, like Peale's life, emerges as a fast-paced and suspenseful chronicle of a man who has had great influence upon our age. It also recounts the offbeat and charming courtship Dr. Peale had with his wife, Ruth.
"One Man's Way" was filmed entirely in Southern California, except for location shots in New York's Marble Collegiate Church, where Dr. Peale has been minister for over 31 years.
All other interiors were made on the studio sound stages.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has asked 77 college and university presidents to beat the bushes for prospective government employees.
Lunching with them at the White House Thursday, the President told the educators they might be proud if they could contribute an Abraham Lincoln, an Oliver Wendell Holmes, an Arthur Vandenberg or a Sam Rayburn — or two.
The university and college presidents were asked to write the President or to telephone one of his assistants about any "really excellent, outstanding students who you think might be drawn into tours of public service."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
House voted Thursday to spend $965 million next year for housing, mostly to clear slums. The vote was 308 to 65.

President Johnson has asked $1.4 billion for two years of urban renewal and $1.8 billion for housing over-all. What the House did was give him about half of what he wanted.

The Senate has passed a similar, although more extensive, bill. The two versions must be meshed before the legislation is sent to the White House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The
National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it is ready for a first — using a satellite already in orbit to help direct another satellite into the proper orbit.

The feat will be attempted next Tuesday when Syncom II, a communications satellite in near stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the mid-Pacific, will assist Syncom C, a sister satellite, after its launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla.
The orbit chosen for Syncom
C is the same as Syncom II's — to hover above the international date line at the equator.

Where Syncom II will come in is to relay radio communications from the Pacific, thus bypassing weather conditions and ionospheric disturbances, frequent between surface points.
These communications will be used to help get Syncom C in proper orbit.

Bride-Elect Honored With Kitchen Shower
On Thursday evening, Miss Claud Ann Sutton, bride-elect of Bill Freeman, was honored with a kitchen shower in the home of Mrs. E. R. Brown.

The honoree, wearing a two-piece silk ensemble fashioned with a satin bow, was presented with a unique kitchen corsage. The mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Claud Sutton, was presented with a gift corsage of white mums.

The thirty guests present enjoyed a fun-filled half-hour hemming and embroidering their initials in cup towels for a useful keepsake for the bride-elect. The gifts were presented to the honoree by an unusual treasure hunt winding through the house and finally leading to a coat filled with many lovely and useful kitchen surprises.

The serving table was covered with a damask cloth centered with an arrangement of shasta daisies. Lime sherbert and white petite four carried out the chosen green and white color scheme. Various floral arrangements were featured at focal points throughout the home.

A gift of an electrical appliance was presented to the honoree by the hostesses: Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Chester Hunt, Mrs. Owen Nix and Miss Betty DeWitt, Alexandria, La. were: Mrs. Buddy Sutton, Little Rock; Mrs. Ray Lawrence, Nashville; Mrs. Benie Hargis, Warren; and Mrs. Franklin DeWitt, Alexandria, La.

Miss Lane Honored With Lingerie Shower

A lingerie shower was given for the bride-elect of Kenneth Williams, Miss Bonnie Sue Lane, Wednesday evening, August 5, at the home of Mrs. Thomas LaGrone.

The hostess invited the guest into her livingroom where the coffee table was centered with an attractive arrangement of colorful summer flowers. The honoree chose a pink prima cotton dress for the occasion. She pinned a corsage of white feathered carnations, at her shoulder, a gift of the hostess.

Several enjoyable games were played with prizes going to Miss Jewell Johnson and Mrs. Joe Prysock of Prescott.

Following the games, Miss Lane opened her many lovely gifts. Mrs. Scotty Shellnutt presided at the guest book. Dainty refreshments were served to the twenty-one present. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Scotty Shellnutt and Mrs. Yvonne May.

Engagement Announced

Miss Bettye House

Mr. and Mrs. Holmon House of Houston, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Bettye Marie, to Walter F.

Kriehn, Jr. of Prescott, on September 4, at Pecan Park Church of Christ in Houston.

"DEAR ABBY"

HE'S CERTAINLY THOUGHTLESS!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Our son never was very good about writing, so when he went into the service we didn't expect too much in the way of mail from him. After we didn't get one line from him in over six months we got in touch with the American Red Cross, and they sent words to us that our son had been discharged three months ago. Isn't the Army supposed to send a boy home after he's been discharged? I am sure they are. So why didn't they send ours home? We are worried.

A MOTHER

Dear Mother: When a serviceman is discharged his transportation home is paid, but nobody "takes" him there. The Army is not responsible for a man once is discharged. Don't worry. A son who doesn't write once in six months is probably in good health somewhere enjoying himself. He'll turn up.

Dear Abby: Should the man who CATCHES the fish have to clean them before bringing them home? Or should his wife clean them?

LOVES TO FISH

Dear Loves: If the man fishes for sport, he should be a good sport and clean them himself. But no fisherman will clean fish if he's caught a sucker.

Dear Abby: My daughter and her fiance made an appointment to have a talk with our clergyman about plans for their forthcoming marriage. When they came back, they were both disgusted. The first thing the clergyman asked my daughter was, "Are you pregnant?" She most certainly was not, but even if she had been, I don't think it would have been any of his business. I thought clergymen were supposed to discuss the teachings of the Bible, and the proper execution of the sacraments. If this is something new, maybe we should have doctors of medicine in the pulpit. I would like your comments.

ALSO DISGUSTED

Dear Also: Clergymen are people even as you and I. There are some bad apples in the liturgical barrel just as there are in other barrels, so don't judge all clergymen by yours. He should be reported to his immediate superior.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WALLY IN HUNTSVILLE: You place too much emphasis on money. "Money never made a man happy yet, nor will it. There is nothing in its nature to produce happiness. The more a man has, the more he wants. Instead of filling a vacuum, it makes one." (Ben Franklin) going to the highest level officials, including federal judges.

The biggest raises — $10,000-a-year — will go to the nine members of the Cabinet, making their annual salaries $35,000.

The next vice president and the speaker of the House will get $8,000 a year, putting their annual salaries at $43,000.

Members of the House and Senate, judges of the courts of appeal, and federal district judges will get $7,500-a-year raises.

That will give the appellate judges annual salaries of $33,900 and the district judges and members of Congress $30,000.

The smallest in size of the major raises goes to the Supreme Court justices — $4,500 a year. The House had voted them $7,500 but the Senate trimmed it to $2,500 and a compromise was struck.

The new annual salaries for the high court will be $40,000 for the chief justice and $39,500 for the associate justices.

For the 1.1 million white collar federal workers, the average increase will be about 4.3 per cent. A typical government secretary will get an annual boost of about $310 a year. In the upper middle bracket an employee making $10,000 will go up by $330 to $10,420.

The average raise for the 590,000 postal employees will be 5.6 per cent. For the 375,000 letter carriers among them, that will mean about $325 a year more. That's about $6 a week.

Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rainshowers will gradually cease and temperatures will creep upward this weekend as a cold front moves out of Arkansas, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today.

Cool weather will prevail through Saturday, the bureau said, with maximum daytime readings mostly in the low and mid 80s, and overnight low marks in the 60s.

Clearer skies, less rain and higher temperatures are expected Sunday.

Maximum readings Thursday ranged from 78 at Little Rock to 88 at Fort Smith. Overnight low readings ranged from 61 at Little Rock to 68 at Texarkana.

ARKANSAS — Mostly cloudy with widely scattered showers through Saturday except for a few thundershowers south and west. Slow warming through Saturday. Low tonight 63 to 70. High Saturday 85 to 95.

LOUISIANA — Partly cloudy through Saturday with widely scattered thundershowers, mainly in the south portion. No important temperature changes. Low tonight 68 to 76. High Saturday 88 to 94.

cleared a path through the jeering mob.

Demonstrators pushed the truck trailer from a parking lot and sent it speeding down the street toward the police barriers. The police jumped aside and the trailer smashed several barriers before stopping some distance from the wall.

The demonstrators raced for the breach in the barriers, but police closed ranks, swung their clubs and held off the demonstrators.

The wall was built three years ago by the Communists to stop the westward exodus of East Germans.

Since then, 53 East Germans have died trying to scale the wall.

To pay homage to the dead, the West Berlin government asked all West Berliners to observe an hour's silence Thursday. Public transport stopped, and streets generally were deserted.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and other members of his government laid wreaths at points where refugees were gunned down by East German border guards.

a living are small. Opponents say the government shouldn't buy any more land at all if the land can be managed under the private enterprise system.

The big paper companies are against the government owning any more land. Georgia-Pacific Corp. says in its latest bulletin: "If unchecked, this flow of land into government hands would terminate itself in the complete socialization of the nation's basic capital: the land and its resources."

Georgia-Pacific also claims that removing land from private ownership takes it off the tax rolls and cuts down on taxes paid.

The government, however, pays the counties involved 10 per cent of the receipts when it cuts national forest timber.

More than half of Scott County's land is owned by the government, Howell said. Two years ago the county got $60,000 from the government for timber cut, Howell said.

Sometimes the county gets as much or more in this way as it would have gotten from the land in taxes, Howell said.

Each national forest has an exterior line outside of which the Forest Service cannot purchase land for addition to the forest. It is this line that would be extended if the government decides this is necessary.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Gary Joel Gibson

Miss Charlotte Ann McQueen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oatner A. McQueen, and Gary Joel Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete W. Gibson of Bossier City, La., were united in marriage Sunday, July 26 at 2:30 in the Emmet Methodist Church.

The vows were exchanged before an altar of floor baskets of white gladiolus and jade and two seven-branched candelabras with burning tapers. Each pew was marked with white satin bows. The Rev. Royce Savage performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Edward Cooper, organist, provided for the nuptial music and Mrs. William J. Arnett sang selections of "I Love You Truly" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white sleeveless princess style gown of German taffeta, boat neckline topped with a white embroidered nylon jacket with long pointed sleeves that buttoned down the back. The dome shaped skirt with white embroidered nylon overlays accenting the side panels and dainty embroidered flowers sprinkled the front and back panels, fell in many double pleats, forming a large train. Her veil of illusion was of white tulle accented with embroidered flowers and fell from a pillbox of German Taffeta. The bride carried a cascade of fleur d'amour centered with a white orchid.

The brides maid of honor was Miss Suzanne Jones and the bridesmaids were Misses Kathy Davidson, Paula Edwards, all of Emmet, and Miss Sue Griffin of Hope. Their dresses were light green brocade satin with bell shaped skirts and they carried a cascade of white pom mums.

Pete W. Gibson served his son as best man. Ushers were Steve Marlar, Hope; Cecil Robinson of Duncan, Okla., J. C. West of Shreveport, La. Candelighters were Michael McQueen, brother of the bride, and Debbie Krane, cousin of the bride.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. McQueen chose an aqua lace dress with white accessories and pinned a white orchid corsage at her shoulder. The groom's mother wore a green brocade satin dress with white accessories and pinned a white orchid corsage at her shoulder. The reception was held at the Educational Building adjoining the church, Green punch, wedding cake, and mints and nuts were served to the guest from a table covered with a white dotted lace cloth over green and centered with a three-tiered candelabra and flowers.

Those dispensing hospitality were Camille Richardson of Malvern, Beverly Hardin, Malvern, Mrs. Huey Davidson, Mrs. Scott Ross, Mrs. Herman Reynolds, and Mrs. Shelby Jones.

The brides book was attended by Mrs. Ralph Thomas, sister of the groom, of Shreveport, La. For her travel, the bride wore a rose colored, nubby textured, two-piece suit, with a polka dotted stole and accessories of white. She pinned the orchid from her bouquet to her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to Florida and the Gulf Coast, the couple will reside in Emmet where the groom is employed at Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company and the bride is a Senior at Henderson State Teachers College.

P. Robinson Petitions for Judge

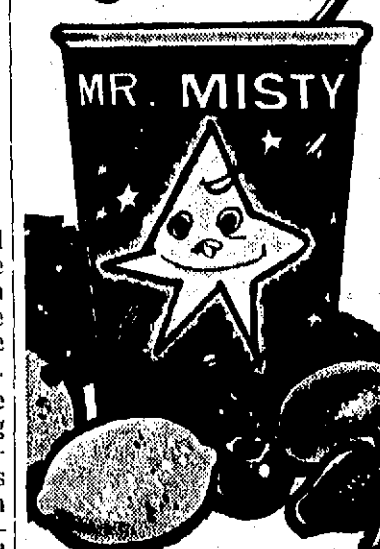

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pat Robinson of Lewisville filed petitions with more than 4,000 signatures Thursday attempting to qualify as an independent candidate for chancery judge in the 7th Judicial District.

The first division post was vacated earlier this year by the death of R. W. Lanius of Camden. Gov. Orval E. Faubus appointed J. Bruce Street to fill out the term.

No one had filed for the post before Robinson presented his petitions to the secretary of state, D. D. Glover, chief deputy secretary of state, said Robinson said the petitions contained 4,769 names, 15 per cent of the voters who cast ballots for governor in the district two years ago.

He said the petitions would be checked before Robinson was certified as an independent candidate.

CBS Slated Today to Buy the Yankees

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System was set today to complete the purchase of the New York Yankees, the richest and most famous franchise in sports, in a sensational maneuver that could place the network behind the closed doors of baseball's highest council chambers.

As owners of the Yankees, the dominant team in baseball for 40 years, CBS presumably would gain full voting rights in American and major league matters.

That includes an upcoming Monday night television package deal during prime viewing time that could bring as much as $20 million. The network has not yet been selected. CBS, as owner of the Yankees, apparently would have equal voting rights with all other major league teams.

American League President Joe Cronin, who announced from Boston Thursday night that the necessary three-fourths of the league owners had approved the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees, emphasized, however, that:

"The American League was advised that if approval was granted the Yankees will be a separate entity and an autonomous organization independent of CBS with Dan Topping as president and other members of the organization continuing to formulate policy and to manage the Yankee organization."

The announcement brought heated, bitter retorts from Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, and Chicago White Sox President Arthur C. Allyn, who raised the question of "the potential ramifications of a national radio and television network controlling a major league club."

"We should know thoroughly what effect such a marriage will be. Dan Topping and Del Webb (co-owners of the Yankees) now have a contract with CBX. That network owns 80 per cent of the club with Topping and Webb each 10 per cent, Allyn said.

"The matter was not brought up at the joint meeting of the majors Tuesday or at our league meeting Monday. But we knew it had been, or was, under discussion between Cronin and the interested parties."

"I think it was a hurry up job. I don't like it a damn bit. It is a sloppy way to run the league."

"This is a hell of a lousy way to run the American League," Finley said. "When the baseball fans of America see the way things are ramrodded, I fear many of them will change their allegiance to the National League."

"The whole thing is indicative of the shenanigans pulled in the American League by Cronin," Cronin said a telegraphic poll of the league owners was taken at the request of the Yankees and that any announcement of the sale must come from the club.

A team spokesman, however, passed the ball to CBS and said any statement must come from

No. 1 Jones vs. Daniels in TV Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy-weight contender Doug Jones risks his No. 1 rating for a $7,500 payday against substitute Billy Daniels in the television fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Jones is a 3-1 favorite over the Brooklyn barber, who was hastily recruited Thursday to fill in for Tony Alonti of Hollywood, Fla.

The lanky Floridian came up with an aching right arm and an examination disclosed he had bone chips.

Once a ranking contender, the 27-year-old Daniels no longer is rated among the top ten. He has an 18-5-1 record, including a fifth round knockout of Alonti 19 months ago.

Jones, 27, has a 24-4-1 record. He has won three straight since he dropped a controversial 10-round decision to Cassius Clay on March 13, 1962.

LOS ANGELES — Danny Valdez, 126, Los Angeles, knocked out Sugar Zatarain, 127½, Mexico, 9.

SAN JOSE Calif. — Paulie Armstead, 138, San Francisco, the network, the network declined immediate comment, but indicated that a formal statement was expected this afternoon.

Webb and Topping, along with Larry MacPhail, bought the Yankees in 1945 for a reported $2.8 million. MacPhail resigned as president two years later and Webb and Topping bought his interest for $2. The stadium and grounds later were sold and now are owned by Rice University and the Knights of Columbus.

The Yankees, excluding the stadium and grounds, now are estimated to be valued between $10 and $15 million.

A key factor in the transaction, and obviously, in the thinking of both Allyn and Finley, is the position CBS gains in relation to the majors' dealings with television, an increasingly important factor.

Part of that is the new Monday night package which was announced last Monday at the major leagues' meetings in Chicago.

John Fetzer, president of the Detroit Tigers and chairman of the majors' television committee, said plans had been approved to televise one game each Monday night in 1965 with the proceeds to be divided equally among the 20 major league teams.

Major league baseball teams negotiate their own seasonal television and broadcast rights, as opposed to the National and American Football Leagues, which sell their rights as a package.

CBS recently purchased the television rights for the 1964 and 1965 NFL regular season games for a whopping $28.2 million and, in a separate deal gained rights to the NFL playoff game for 1964 and 1965 at $1.8 million a game.

NBC, which purchased the rights to the AFL regular season games for five years starting in 1965 for $36 million, also has the rights to the World Series, at $3.5 million.

The sale of the Yankees to CBS would appear to give that network the inside track toward purchase of the World Series rights, but in Baltimore, Joseph A.W. Iglehart, chairman of the board of the Baltimore Orioles and former director of CBS, said this is not true.

"The sale will not have any effects on television contracts and individual ball clubs, or with the rights to the World Series and All-Star Game," he said.

Iglehart announced he had resigned from the Board of Directors of CBS to avoid a conflict of interest.

The club now known as the Yankees originally was purchased for $18,000 by Frank Farrell and Bill Devery, who bought the Baltimore franchise for that amount and transferred it to New York in 1903.

Since then the Yankees have carved an unmatched history of success, winning 28 American League championships and coping the World Series 20 times.

Roberts Sinks Boston for Baltimore

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Robin Roberts, sold by the Phillies as over the hill and released by the Yankees without a look, could be a key man in the future of each of those ball clubs.

The 37-year-old right-hander scored his 10th victory of the year Thursday night, a four-hit effort over seven innings in a 7-1 triumph over Boston that put his Baltimore Orioles in excellent shape for the crucial series with the New York Yankees starting tonight.

The victory increased Baltimore's American League lead to three full games — its biggest in a month — and, at this stage of the season, made a Baltimore-Philadelphia World Series increasingly likely.

The Phillies, for whom Roberts won 230 games in 14 seasons, dropped a 3-1 decision to Chicago in the only National League game scheduled but were still 3½ games ahead of the pack, a hard-to-catch lead at this stage of the season.

Minnesota whipped Detroit 6-3 and the New York Yankees stayed within 3½ games of Baltimore with a 5-2 edge over second-place Chicago in the only other games on the major league schedule.

The victory concluded an unhappily important home stand for the Yankees in which they:

1. Lost a share of the league lead when they dropped a four-game set to Baltimore, three games to one.

2. Salvaged only two games out of four from Chicago, a team they had beaten, 10 straight this season.

Now they head to Baltimore for three games, the final three of the season with the league leaders and the Orioles anxious for he chance to provide the coup de grace.

Roberts set it up last night. Pitching with only three days rest, he limited Boston to four hits in seven innings, had a 7-1 lead and retired in favor of Stu Miller.

He was staked to a five-run lead in the first inning by Brooks Robinson's three run homer, a run-producing error by Carl Yastrzemski and Norm Siebern's run-scoring single. A double by Ed Bressoud and Russ Nixon's single in the fifth produced the only Boston run.

The Yankees closed to within a half game of Chicago when Elston Howard's two-out, two-on homer in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie and provided the Yanks with a split in the four-game set with the White Sox. Al Downing won his 10th and Gary Peters went the distance in losing.

Minnesota rammed in five runs in the first inning against Detroit's Dave Wickersham and coasted in from there, aided by Tony Oliva's 27th homer in the second.

Ernie Broglio limited the Phils to three hits and struck out nine as the Cubs broke Philadelphia's five-game winning string. Ernie Banks' 15th homer got the first run for the Cubs.

Chargers, Oilers Meet Saturday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two of the hottest teams in the American Football League meet in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium Saturday night.

And a battle within the battle will pit former Arkansas Razorbacks Lance Alworth and Danny Brabham against each other.

Alworth is the all-star flanker back for the San Diego Chargers, 1963 American League champions. Brabham will start at strong side linebacker for the Houston Oilers, who finished in third place in the league's Eastern Division last year.

Both were among the finest of their times as Razorbacks. Alworth starred on offense, Brabham on defense.

But Saturday night's professional exhibition game is expected to be an offensive battle. San Diego Coach Sid Gillman believes he has the best one-two quarterback punch in pro football in Tobin Rote and John Hadl.

But Houston Oiler Cach Sammy Baugh puts a lot of stock in his three quarterbacks—George Blanda, Jackie Lee and former Baylor University star Don Trull.

Both teams have 1-0 records in exhibition games.

Houston beat Boston 38-7 and San Diego beat Denver 34-20. After the game the San Diego team goes on to Jonesboro where it will train on Arkansas State College football facilities for two weeks.

There are a few injuries, an Diego tackle Ernie Ladd, a 6-foot-9, 300-pounder, will miss the game. But Keith Lincoln, San Diego's great fullback who gained 206 yards on 13 carries in the league championship game with Boston last year, will see action.

San Diego beat Boston 51-10 in that game.

The game will serve three purposes. Central Arkansas fans will get to see pro football first hand, they'll have a chance to cheer for two former Razorback stars, and the net proceeds will go toward expanding War Memorial Stadium.

The stadium seats only 41,000—not enough the way Razorback crowds have been mushrooming in the past few years—and the Committee for the Expansion of War Memorial Stadium, appointed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, is working on building more seats, a new press box, and more parking lots.

The expansion will cost about $1.6 million. State funds will pay for much of the work.

Vikings Due This Year to Make Fight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEMIDJ, Minn. (AP) — This is the fourth year for the Minnesota Vikings. The youngest club in the National Football League has begun to jell and is about ready to start making trouble in the Western Conference.

Of the original 36 Vikings, only Grady Alderman, an offensive tackle, remains on the team that Norm Van Brocklin will send into the season.

The Vikings had a 3-11 record their first year, were 2-11-1 in 1962, and last season they were 5-8-1, finishing in a fourth-place tie with Detroit in the tough Western half of the NFL.

Van Brocklin is counting on rookie defensive end Carl Eller of Minnesota, tight end Hal Bedsole of Southern California and, possibly, safety George Rose of Auburn and guard Milt Sunde of Minnesota to crack the regular lineup.

Inexperience in the deep defense may be costly but the Vikings should man a strong front four for pass rushing and should be able to move the ball on the ground with Bill Brown, Tom Mason and Ted Dean, acquired from the Philadelphia Eagles.

As with all pro clubs, the quarterback will tell the story. Van Brocklin is staying with Fran Tarkenton, starting his fourth pro year, as No. 1 with Ron Vanderkelen behind him.

Paul Flatley, NFL Rookie of the Year in 1963, is the prime target at split end. If Bedsole, a 6-foot-4 230-pounder, can oust Jerry Reichow from tight end, Reichow probably will alternate with speedy Bob Reed at flanker.

Eller, a 6-6, 247-pound giant, is due to take over at left end on defense. Jim Prestel and Paul

Wrestling Matches Will Open Saturday Night at Fair Park, VFW Sponsor

TOM BRADLEY

Raspy-voiced Tom Bradley, the former cowboy from Denver, is nicknamed "Branding Iron" because he always leaves his mark upon the person of any opponent he faces.

Tom will be seen in Hope Saturday night, August 15, at 8:30 at the Hope Fair Park in wrestling matches sponsored by the V.F.W. Post.

Bradley is a relentless antagonist and never lets up on the opposition once the bell rings. He goes about his business of finishing off an opponent just as if he were still engaged in grappling with a 700 or 800 pound steer. Tom says that riding a bucking bronc or flipping a steer off his feet is much more difficult than flattening a two-legged grappler.

Bradley got his start in professional wrestling when, as a rodeo cowboy, he ran out of money in Denver. He went to see the local wrestling promoter and asked for a chance to earn eating money. Recognizing that the hard-bitten cowboy might just be the kind of an attraction that the fans would want to see, the promoter matched Tom on one of the preliminary bouts.

Bradley demonstrated that he didn't possess any great knowledge of scientific wrestling, but showed that he was right at home in any type of rough and tumble fracas.

Feeling that a professional wrestling offered an easier way to earn a livelihood than following the rodeo trail or working in the cow camps, Bradley has stuck to the pro game. His roughness and stamin amake him a hard come to handle and he has become a great success as a box office attraction. It may be fun for the fans to watch Tom but it certainly is no picnic for the wrestlers with whom he tangles. This guy will give anyone a contest and he is apt to upset the best.

Coleman Is Beaten by Midwest

By RANDY WORTHY

Midwest edged Coleman of Prescott by a thin margin 6-5. Coleman had a 5-run lead over Midwest with Barham pitching. In the top of the 5th, Barham was relieved on the mound and Lumpkin took over, with a scoreless game the rest of the way Midwest picked up 5 runs to tie the ball game. Lumpkin was aided by a triple play in the 6th inning when the ball was hit hard to Doug Rogers; he picked it up and threw it to Ward at home, who threw it to Ratell at third, who relayed it to Ingram at 2nd.

In the 7th inning, Doug Rogers hit a triple and during the pitch to Gibson Rogers scored on a wild pitch to end the ball game, with the winning pitcher Lumpkin and the loser McGough.

And that winds it up for the Little League season.

Card Pros Picked for East Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — On the theory that the St. Louis Cardinals matured in the heat of the rousing four-club race in 1963, many pro football observers are tabbing Wally Lemm's club for the Eastern championship in the National Football League this season.

The Cards came close last year although they finished third. With three games to go they were locked in a three-way tie for first with New York and Cleveland. Only a last game defeat by Dallas cost them a piece of second place. Their 9-5 record was the teams best since 1948.

"When you get in contention you are hurt if you don't have experience," said Lemm at the training camp at Lake Forest College where he used to coach. "None of our boys had played with a contender except Joe Childress and Jimmy Hill in 1956. I think we matured last year under real pressure. Now we know how it feels."

"The loss of Bill Triplett (out for the season with a lung condition) has to hurt. If John David Crow can pick us up we'll be all right. Crow has torn adhesions after an operation but we expect him back before the opener."

Lemm is high on Charley Johnson, who has come to be recognized as one of the best—if not the best—young quarterback in the league.

Johnson, of course, is the key to the Cards' attack. Sonny Randle, the tricky split end, is one of the best receivers in the league and he knows all the moves. Bobby Joe Conrad, the flanker, led the NFL with 73 receptions last season.

Taz Anderson and Jackie Smith, the tight ends, are good receivers. So are halfback Prentice Gault, out all last year with injuries, and fullback Childress. Lemm counts on Gault and Childress to carry the running attack and hopes for help from Crow, Bob Paremore and Bill (Thunder) Thornton. Rookie Willie Crenshaw of Kansas State was to have been a defensive back but his play in the All-Star games convinced Lemm to give him a chance at offense.

Four of the defensive men were rookies last year—tackle Sam Silas, end Don Brumm, linebacker Larry Stallings and safety Jerry Stovall, who also is the punter. Lemm expects all to improve. Veterans Joe Robb and Luke Owens join Silas and Brumm on the front four. Dale Meinert, the defensive captain, is a top flight middle linebacker and Bill Koma nis a standout at right linebacker.

No 18-Orbit Flight Is Planned

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A recommendation for 18 orbits instead of three for the first manned Gemini flight has apparently been turned down.

Charles W. Matthews, Gemini program director, said a proposal for 18 orbits had been discussed but plans were proceeding with three trips around the globe by two astronauts.

The recommendation was accompanied with nine reasons why a longer flight was needed. Most dealt with astronaut safety.

A Manned Spacecraft Center spokesman said it was assumed the proposal had been rejected, although Matthews didn't specifically say so.

"The proposal was discussed and the original plan of three orbits still is in effect. I assume the recommendation was rejected," said the spokesman.

The proposal was reportedly made by a high official at the space center. He said a longer first flight was needed to check out spacecraft systems in space because they would be untried in later flights of longer duration.

The space capsule for the first manned mission in December has a maximum capability of 18 orbits.

Headaches Ahead for Stamp Plan

By OVID MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional enactment of legislation putting the food stamp plan on a permanent basis and authorizing its expansion carries a mixture of blessings and headaches for the administration.

The measure, which had been sought both by President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy, offers blessings, sponsors say, in that it will help thousands of poorly fed Americans eat better and provide farmers a broadened market for their products.

The headaches will arise when the Agriculture Department, the administering agency, gets down to the task of deciding which communities will be chosen for expansions authorized by the bill. There are many more applicant areas with their sponsoring senators and congressmen — than can be designated.

At present, a co-called pilot plan is being operated in 40 counties, including Independence County, Ark., and three cities.

An estimated 390,000 low-income persons in these areas are participating in the plan. Officials say that expansion this year would permit perhaps no more than a doubling of this number. This would be far short, officials said, of the number of areas having applications pending.

Under the plan, low-income persons get government-issued stamps, good for purchase of foods at regular grocery stores, to supplement their diets. The department redeems the stamps through the banking system. In areas where the plan is employed, it supplants a government food distribution program under which food surpluses are donated the needy through local welfare agencies.

Wide Piracy of Secrets in Industry

By JERRY BUCK
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The assembly line of a factory turning out a peacetime product might seem an unlikely place for espionage — but it isn't.

Industrial espionage is a hush-hush sideline whereby an unscrupulous employee can double his salary selling his company's secrets to a competitor.

"Such shady moonlighting costs the nation's businesses millions annually," says Ausville Jackson Jr., a lawyer who heads a committee of the American Bar Association looking into the theft of trade secrets and proprietary rights.

It might involve just a janitor selling scrap from wastebaskets — or the formula for a new wonder drug that took years to develop.

"There are even firms that specialize in industrial espionage and will help place a spy for a willing industry," Jackson said. "Since the spies are usually well-qualified in their own fields, getting a job with a competitor is relatively easy."

Such perfidy can even reach to the highest places. In the Midwest, a number of top officials of a manufacturing firm conspired to steal their company's secrets and go into business for themselves, he said of one case. Lured by the prospect of a cheap supply, one large customer of the manufacturer put up the cash to get the interlopers started.

Jackson admits that as a lawyer he has prosecuted a few cases himself, but fends off inquiries with a disarming smile.

The drug industry is particularly vulnerable to secret stealing. One American company made a major breakthrough for a wonder drug only to see its formula stolen and sold to a European manufacturer. The federal government began buying the drug from the European producer because it was cheaper.

Industrial spies employ every modern device. Jackson said one successful spy says he specializes in "broads, bugs, bars and bribery." The same secret agent revealed spies are experimenting with truth serum cocktails and hypnosis, including post-hypnotic suggestions to turn over company secrets.

Jackson believes one way to cut down on espionage would be to extend the national stolen property law to cover industrial secrets. He adds a worker made to feel he has an important role and a promising future isn't likely to betray his employer.

There's another way, Jackson says — reliance on good, old-fashioned business ethics.

Investments Overseas to Be Curbed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Congress is moving to fence in American investors from the greener pastures overseas. Or, from the foreigner's point of view, it is curbing access to the lower long-term interest rates prevailing in the United States.

Washington wants to keep American dollars at work at home rather than grabbing off the higher yield which foreign industrial and financial investments have offered.

The method adopted is to tax purchases by Americans from foreigners of foreign securities, plus a threat to tax commercial loans by U.S. banks to foreigners if these should multiply. Americans can still buy, free of tax, such securities from their fellow citizens who may already own them.

The purpose is to prevent another big outflow of U.S. investment money abroad such as threatened U.S. dollar and gold reserves in the spring of 1963.

Actually the outflow was pretty well halted that summer by the introduction of the interest equalization tax measure which Congress seems ready to pass. Its provisions are retroactive to stock purchases since July 1963.

And this apparently kept most investors from buying the foreign stocks and bonds pending congressional action.

A perhaps equally potent deterrent was the weakness in European stock markets since then. Foreign investments have not looked as tempting, tax or not.

But interest rates have been rising in Western Europe. And the spread between yields on loans and investments made here and those made overseas is growing. This is what the proposed law, as shaped by Senate House conferees, is designed to counteract.

American bankers active in international finance, as well as dealers of such securities, have CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Jerry Wayne Smallwood, 17, of Tulsa, Okla., was killed near here Thursday when he was run over by the rear wheels of a construction company water truck he tried to jump on. He was working during the summer for the Jeffrey Construction Co. of Fort Smith, which is working on Interstate 40. The victim's father also works for the company.

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Billy Narens, 9, of Texarkana was fatally injured here Thursday when he was struck by a car as he rode his bicycle. Police Chief Max Tackett said police held the driver, Phillip Lloyd Cowan, 23, of Texarkana.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Commerce Commission has turned down Midland Valley Railroad Co.'s request for a review of its 1964 Arkansas property tax assessment. The company contended an assessment of $42,500 on its holdings in Arkansas was excessive. The line operates in the state from the Oklahoma border to Greenwood in Sebastian County.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. C. F. Peters of Malvern crashed his plane into two hangers during landing practice Thursday at the Little Rock Municipal Airport, but was unhurt. The small plane was heavily damaged. Peters, a student pilot, went up for more practice. On the second try he took an instructor.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The McAben Truck Line of Huntsville bid Thursday to haul federal surplus commodities to schools around the state for 49 cents a mile. The bid was the only one received by the federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The contract, held by the firm last year, requires hauling the food from a North Little Rock warehouse to schools which use the commodities.

World Today

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—By an unusual twist, two long-time political comrades-in-arms and personal friends have been thrown into the roles of front-runners for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Minnesota's Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, 53, and Eugene J. McCarthy, 48, may find the roles a bit uncomfortable but they are carrying them through with good humor and grace as the time for a choice nears.

President Johnson, who will select the man for the No. 2 spot on the ticket, has not pointed a finger at either Minnesotan.

His choice may turn out to be someone else.

But Johnson's high regard for Humphrey and McCarthy has been voiced so often that speculation inevitably centered on them once the President eliminated Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and several other possibilities.

The two senators remain on the best of terms and continue to match their votes on almost every issue as the 1964 session grinds to an end.

Both will be delegates from Minnesota to the Atlantic City convention with opens Aug. 24.

They even are able to kid about their predicament, as they did at a fund-raising dinner for McCarthy earlier in the year. McCarthy is a candidate for re-election to the Senate this fall.

Humphrey served as chairman for the dinner, which attracted Johnson and an unusual number of other top figures in the party.

Humphrey recalled there had been discussion in Congress of a constitutional amendment to provide for two vice presidents, and said that McCarthy had told him: "Hubert, don't be so down cast. When that constitutional amendment comes up taking care of Adlai (Stevenson) and me, we're going to amend it to provide for three vice presidents. We think there should be somebody who just travels around and has a good time."

"I want you to know, Gene, I accept," Humphrey replied.

At that dinner, incidentally, Johnson termed McCarthy "one of the greatest men in public life." But he was generous in praise of Humphrey then and on occasions.

Lone Priest Fights Congo Delinquency

By JOHN LATZ

ELISABETHVILLE, Congo (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest is waging a battle to save the youth of Elisabethville from delinquency.

Father Gerard Van Asperdt, 38, a former officer in the Dutch air force, also holds an architectural degree. He thought it worth an effort to try to save the thousands of youths who sleep in gutters and spend their waking hours in bars.

He started with only the blessing of the local father superior of the Salesian Order. He cleared some waste ground three miles out of town to build the home of his dreams — a City of Youth.

The local Lions Club donated $2,240 — and Father Van Asperdt has built a modest house for its own living quarters, a kitchen and a chapel.

The next phase of the project will cost $48,000 and Van Asperdt hopes to have it finished within two years. It will provide accommodation for 600 boarders and 900 day boys. Youths of from 15 to 25 are acceptable but, he added: "We shall take older boys if they are unable to find work."

Although he is a Catholic, Father Van Asperdt said "we shall help everybody who needs our help."

The project will include workshops, a bakery and a technical school. Products will be sold in town to raise funds.

Van Asperdt's only assistant is a young Italian, Abbe Mario Marchioli, 20, from Abruzzi, who is studying for his theological degree at a Catholic college here.

Early every morning, a number of youths report to work on the project. Their only pay is a bowl of corn at lunchtime and a free ticket to the Sunday soccer match.

The priest has opened playing fields and is proud of his two pairs of boxing gloves. In his spare days he was a boxer and judo champion. This came in handy recently when bandits tried to steal his truck and car from the isolated house. Armed with a baseball bat he chased them off.

Father Van Asperdt dons his cassock — "I must look respectable" — to show visitors around his "recruiting ground." These include flash-storm ditches, in which some of his boys had slept; a brothel, and finally an African bar, renowned for its rowdiness. "This is where my clients come from," he says laughingly.

life." But he was generous in praise of Humphrey then and on occasions.

Humphrey and McCarthy began to build their political careers as youthful idealists after World War II in the battle to mold a new liberal party in Minnesota from Democratic and Farm-Labor elements. Both entered politics from college teaching. Humphrey became mayor of Minneapolis.

In 1948, both defeated Republicans to win places in Congress and came to Washington, Humphrey as a senator and McCarthy as a House member.

When McCarthy decided to move over to the Senate in 1958, Humphrey campaigned for him all over the state. McCarthy has reciprocated in Humphrey's races.

Both senators are alike in their views on political questions and both are excellent speakers, although they differ sharply in style.

Humphrey is bouncy, vibrant, full of his subject, and his range of subjects is inexhaustible. McCarthy is much quieter, apt to use wit and irony; but he can be powerful, as his impressive nominating speech for Steven-

Goldwater to Speak in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Winthrop Rockefeller said today he was assured at the GOP strategy meeting in Hershey, Pa., Wednesday that GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater will campaign in Arkansas.

"It was not a question of whether the senator would visit Arkansas but of when to fit it into his schedule and the type of meeting he wants to address," Rockefeller said.

"I pointed out to them that Arkansas has a number of statewide celebrations between now and the election which they might want to consider," Rockefeller said.

Dean Burch, new chairman of the GOP National Committee, indicated that state organizations for Goldwater would be announced no later than Sept. 3, Rockefeller said.

National officials seem well-pleased with Republican organization in Arkansas, Rockefeller added.

The gubernatorial candidate said he meeting at Hershey was worthwhile and valuable to the party.

"With the tension of the convention behind us, Sen. Goldwater was able to reward his statements and to issue them calmly," Rockefeller said. "I think his statements are good ones and answer many of the questions that were raised at the convention."

Rockefeller said he had a pleasant visit with Goldwater. With Rockefeller 4th graf LR 13.

son at the 1960 Los Angeles Democratic convention showed. Senate friends of the two men size up their chances in the vice presidential contest this way:

Humphrey is better known nationally and to Democratic politicians. He appears to have support of more party leaders and stands far higher in polls.

Johnson might well select him for this standing, for his broad knowledge of public affairs, his energy and zest, and his proven ability as a campaigner.

McCarthy is a bit more of a Johnson protégé, a graceful and attractive figure whose Roman Catholic faith might strengthen the ticket among some ethnic groups. He has more Southern support.

Johnson might decide he would prefer a running mate not quite so apt to be bursting with ideas and so ebullient.

ROBBIE

By Arlene S. Buffles

Janice Watwood glared at her ten-year-old son Robbie who sat quietly at the kitchen table, his fair hair and blue eyes reflecting angelic qualities.

"How could you, Robbie, today of all days? You know I have my bridge club this afternoon. How can I spend hours sitting in the principal's office?" She quickly scanned the note. "Eat your lunch, you'll be late again. It doesn't say what you did this time. Robbie, when will you learn? If you keep up like this, you'll end up in reform school."

Robbie hung his head and set his jaw stubbornly.

"At least, you could tell me what you've done! All right, don't! I'm sure everyone else will be glad to. I just can't understand it. Shelia never causes me a moment's anxiety and Teddy is an adorable little boy, why is it that you can't behave?" She shook her head. "Robbie, Robbie. You have my hair and my eyes, but inside—you're different!"

Later, at the principal's office, Janice stood tall in her smart, high-heeled shoes, shifting her weight from one foot to the other.

"No, thanks," she said, "I really can't take time to sit down, I have a very full schedule today."

The man with the graying hair viewed her through dark eyes of compassion. "Mrs. Watson, this concerns the future of your son. Surely you can spare a few minutes for such an important matter."

Janice checked her watch. "Okay. Haven't I always cooperated? Like when Robbie stole those science books from the library, I paid for them didn't I? And when he was fooling around in Mr. Timkin's garage with that chemistry stuff and something blew up — well, I'm still paying for that one. I certainly hope you're not going to tell me he's done something like that again."

Mr. Booth, the principal settled his long frame in his chair behind the desk, a manilla folder opened before him. "After this latest episode, I interviewed Robbie's teacher and have a complete record here. Incidentally, I understand that yesterday Robbie took a squirrel, he found dead in the neighborhood and was 'borrowing' the biology lab's equipment to do an autopsy."

"Well," Janice hedged, "I don't see the harm in that. After all, the squirrel was dead."

"But don't you think that his conduct was rather, uh, unusual?"

"Mr. Booth, Robbie's conduct has always been rather unusual," Janice replied. "Are you thinking of sending him off somewhere? Last time the policeman told me..." She did not complete the sentence.

Mr. Booth toyed with his ball point pen, snapping the point in and out.

"Try to understand our position, Mrs. Watwood. Robbie's teacher can do very little to help him. The average child, even with personality differences, usually manages to fit in with the group, but every now and then we have a youngster who is unable to conform to a set pattern. There are special schools for these children. Now, we've taken the liberty of giving Robbie some tests..."

"But you just can't make these kind of decisions. My husband will have something to say about this. We've done our best with Robbie, treated him like the others, and given time, I'm sure he'll turn out okay."

"No, Mrs. Watwood, things would keep getting worse. Did it ever occur to you to wonder why Robbie does the things he does?"

Janice fumbled in her purse for a handkerchief to wipe away the tears which were blurring her vision. "We've done our best, honestly we have, but Robbie just won't behave."

"There's nothing to cry about, Mrs. Watwood. The result of the tests we gave Robbie show that he has an I.Q. of 164. All these things which he has done indicate to the trained worker, a tremendous desire to learn, to experiment. Robbie needs a school where the teachers have advanced training and use concepts which just aren't possible in a normal school. He needs to be with other students on his level. At Excelsior the teachers will challenge him and help satisfy his need to know. Our country needs men of Robbie's quality in all fields. I hope you and your husband will let him go."

Janice looked at the principal with wonder in her eyes. Suddenly she realized she didn't have a juvenile delinquent on her hands. She had a son who was a genius.
